Delivering Information Security Program Management

Every organization needs an information security program, but precious few small and midsize firms (SMBs) have the time, staff, or resources to build and sustain a truly effective one. As a trusted advisor, your customers come to you with their security questions and for guidance on how to best use their limited resources to manage risk. YourCISO® can help you provide the answers they need with a convenient, right-sized solution for SMBs that will empower your clients with the tools they need to make informed, risk-based decisions backed by your expertise.

WITH YOURCISO, YOUR CUSTOMERS WILL BENEFIT FROM:

- An easy-to-use platform for benchmarking their current security posture
- Tools for documenting their security program
- Streamlined access for scheduling consulting time with your team

YOUR BUSINESS WILL BENEFIT FROM:

- Additional revenue from YourCISO subscriptions
- A consistent and well-organized touchpoint for engaging with clients
- Flexible customization that supports a variety of private branding options.

Build Your Value With Your Customers

Leveraging YourCISO with customers brings value to your business that goes beyond being just another service to sell. The tools in YourCISO can deepen your relationship with customers by enabling more productive engagements. When your customers use YourCISO, you gain:

- Visibility into latent program shortfalls that can generate opportunities for additional engagements
- The ability to channel impromptu questions into scheduled consultations
- Efficiency from a shared frame of reference. Spend less time on discovery and more time on productive problem solving
- Greater 'stickiness' with customers by offering a unique solution that is not easily replaced

YourCISO is the win-win solution for SMB customers with security questions and trusted advisors seeking a better way to deliver answers.
